

Judge Waste Marked By Mrs. Martin To Be Blown Up

TROY ADMITS BULLETIN SUIT WAS INSTIGATED BY DANIEL MURPHY OF SUPERVISORS' WATER COMMITTEE

Forced to Statement on the Witness Stand by Prosecutor Cook.

Denies That It Was Done at the Request of Tevis, Whose Father He Denounced Bitterly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Assistant District Attorney Cook threw a bombshell into the Bulletin suit this morning by stating he had reasons to believe that the case was instigated for the sole purpose of exploiting the respective merits of the Heach-Hetchy and Bay Cities water systems, and that he wished to institute an inquiry as to whether or not there was collusion between E. P. E. Troy, the attorney who swore to the complaint and the defendants, as Troy had refused to divulge to him at whose instigation he had brought the complaint.

Assistant District Attorney Cook later said to the Court: "This case was not submitted to the district attorney's office, nor was there any collusion with the defense, but whether Mr. Tevis was libeled or not I do not know, nor am I in a position to know. This case was instigated by Troy for the purpose of exploiting the relative merits of two water companies. We are not investigating the water question here. I don't feel as an official that I can present this case as I should present it; therefore, I move that the case be dismissed. I make this motion at the request of Mr. Langdon, and I don't want it to be understood that I am putting improper motives to the defense."

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—A startling admission was literally wrung from the lips of E. P. E. Troy, who swore to the complaint against Crothers and Older in the Bulletin libel suit in department 8 of the Superior Court this morning. Troy was an unwilling witness and it was with some difficulty that Assistant District Attorney William H. Cook succeeded in having the jury excluded to force the witness to answer.

The chief aim of Cook in placing Troy upon the stand was to discover at once whether he had sworn to the complaint against the proprietor and editor of the Bulletin. He did not like to answer.

Defied the Prosecutor.
He defied the defense at the assistant district attorney and literally belittled forth in a thunderous voice that he had no confidence in Prosecutor William H. Cook and for that reason he had refused to give him any information when the assistant district attorney had questioned him out of court.

When at length he was compelled to answer the question as to what had motivated him to make a statement before the court, he replied: "I don't want to hear any statement, I don't want to hear any statement, I don't want to hear any statement."

Not at Tevis' Request.
He testified that it was not at Tevis' request that he had begun the suit, but at the instance of Daniel Murphy, a member of the water committee of the board of supervisors. He declared that he was working in the interest of San Francisco, and if something were not done within the next five years, there would be, according to his statement, only enough water to last the people two hours a day.

When the proceedings began this morning Assistant District Attorney Cook asked that the jury and the prospective jurors be removed from the courtroom, as he had an important matter to bring to the attention of the court. Attorney Roche, representing the defendant, objected, but Cook insisted, saying he did not wish to prejudice the case by matters going on in another jurisdiction. After some further debate Judge Dooling ordered that all jurors leave the room. Cook then called E. P. E. Troy to the witness stand.

He therefore denied the motion. Before any questions could be put to him the defense desired a statement as to what the assistant district attorney expected to glean from the witness. Cook replied that he had asked Troy outside of court by whose advice he had instituted these proceedings. Troy had refused to divulge his source of information and Cook told the court he desired, therefore, to place him on the witness stand and have him reply in open court. The prosecutor stated further that he had asked Troy whether Mr. Tevis had requested him to swear to the complaint. He had replied that he had not but would not state who he had. He therefore proposed to find that out.

Troy Grows Angry.
A soon as Cook had taken his seat Troy, who was on the witness stand, rose to his feet and fairly belittled with a loud, forceful voice at the assistant district attorney, saying that the latter had not told the truth.

"Mr. Cook, you have said things in your statement that you know to be untrue. I desire to make a statement before the court. I am called upon to testify."

"I will say," thundered Troy, "that I have no confidence in the assistant district attorney. It was for that reason that I would not answer his questions the other day. He did not ask me any questions regarding the evidence in this case. I have known him for a long time, and I have no confidence in him."

Court Interfered.
Further words were prevented by the court, and the first question was put to the witness by the Assistant District Attorney.

"Did you swear to the complaint in this case?"

"I did," was the answer.

"Did you swear at the request of Mr. Tevis?"

"I did not."

AFFIDAVITS ANSWERING RUEF NOT READY

PROSECUTION BEGS FOR TIME

Case Not Likely to Come to Definite Action Before Wednesday.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Pleading insufficiency of time in which to complete the affidavits promised by the prosecution in the case of Abraham Ruef, and dealing with the immunity contract, Assistant District Attorney O'Gara this morning asked for a continuance of the proceedings before Judge Lawlor and by agreement with Henry Ach, representing Ruef, the case went over until tomorrow morning.

It was evident to those in court that it is unlikely that the affidavits will be filed in court before Wednesday at the earliest. Ruef and his attorney, Henry Ach, appeared in court promptly at 10 o'clock and within two minutes Judge Lawlor called the case. Ach began by protesting against the failure of the prosecution to serve him with copies of the affidavits it intends to file and in which it was stated it will reveal all of the facts relating to the immunity contract and in which it will attempt to prove that Ruef was the only violator of that agreement.

Want More Time.
O'Gara replied by saying that while the prosecution has been diligently engaged in making the depositions, it has found it impossible to complete them at this time. He said that the affidavits would be complete and ready to be sworn to by Saturday noon and promised that by that time the defense would receive copies of each of them and that they could be sworn to and filed in court on Monday morning.

Ach objected to the filing of the affidavits in court on Monday on the ground that if he received copies as late as Saturday he will not have sufficient time in which to digest them, and asked that Wednesday be set as the date for the filing of the affidavits. Judge Lawlor refused to set any date for the filing of the affidavits, saying he would call the case again tomorrow morning in a mere formal way and immediately set it down for continuance on Monday morning, saying further, that on Monday morning it is likely both sides would be in a position to know definitely when they might proceed.

O'Gara Asks Continuance.
O'Gara told of his intention to move for a continuance before the opening of court.

TRUSTEE'S AUCTION SALE OF JAPANESE ART GOODS AT THE FUJI, 961-963 WASHINGTON STREET.

PRESIDENT COLLINS AND OTHER OFFICIALS OF THE CALIFORNIA BANK ARE SUBPOENAED TO APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY

D. Edward Collins, former president of the now closed California Bank has been subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury tomorrow morning to answer questions relative to charges and by J. H. Sullivan that the bank took deposits when it knew it was insolvent and could not pay, and other charges made by others that the funds of the bank were misused and embezzled.

DYNAMITE CACHE POINTED OUT BY 'BABY' JOHN WAS TO BE USED AGAINST HIM

"Mrs. Martin Had It in for Me," Says Jurist, and Thinks She Intended to Do to Him What She Did to Judge Ogden.

The mystery which the police have woven around the finding of the box of dynamite in De Fremery Park yesterday by the help of "Baby John" Martin exists only in their own mind. More than a week ago, in the Weaverville Jail, Mrs. Isabella Martin told a correspondent of THE TRIBUNE that this particular dynamite was for the purpose of blowing up the house of Judge Waste of this city.

The Alameda jurist, to which the police mysteriously refer as something to be developed, is Judge Waste. Mrs. Martin's enmity for this jurist was well known. It came about through her thinking that Judge Waste had advised Judge Sargent in her insurance litigation to decide the matter without considering her many applications for a continuance of the case.

The following excerpt is from a statement she made in the jail in connection with this case:

"Some time after the decision was given I went down to see Judge Sargent. Sargent said he had called Judge Waste in conference on the matter and that Judge Waste had advised him to go ahead with the case and not continue it, because, he said, it was my purpose to keep on continuing it. I afterwards saw Judge Waste and asked him why he had advised Judge Sargent in that manner, and Judge Waste said he had never given any such advice to Judge Sargent."

It was this matter which aroused the enmity of Mrs. Martin against Judge Waste and led her to put him in the list of those whom she would destroy or dynamite. There has been no mystery about it, and there is none.

Woman Disliked Judge Waste

"Mrs. Martin had it in for me, I know," said Judge Waste today, "and I have no doubt at all that she would probably have gone as far to get revenge on me for her fancied grievances as she did in the case of Judge Ogden."

Judge Waste presided for a time over the hearing of the suit for $2000 that Mrs. Martin brought against the Westchester Fire Insurance Company. Judges Melvin and Ogden also heard some phases of the case, and against all of them the woman bore malice. Her case was finally disposed of by Judge R. V. Sargent of Monterey county, who came to Oakland on purpose to try it. He decided against Mrs. Martin, who thereupon wrote him an abusive and intimidating letter, in which she abused Judges Waste and Melvin as well. The letter was turned over to Sheriff Barnett, but nothing was done to punish Mrs. Martin for having written it.

Mrs. Martin never made any open threat to Judge Waste, but she showed many times when in his courtroom that she disliked him, and on one occasion she ordered "Baby John" to deliver him an impudent message over the telephone.

"My mother told me to tell you that she had enough of your kind; you're crooked," is what the boy told Judge Waste over the telephone. No attention was paid by the latter to the message.

POLICE HAVE EVIDENCE THAT MRS. MARTIN HAD JUDGE WASTE ON LIST

Although only thirty hours have elapsed since "Baby John" Martin arrived in Oakland from Weaverville in custody of Detective Hodgkins and county officials, so much has been accomplished in the way of corroborating the statements made by the boy as to plots evolved in the mind of Mrs. Isabella Martin against Judge Waste, that these in charge of the case no longer hesitate to say that the woman will be brought to Oakland in the near future to face trial on a charge of dynamiting the home of Superior Judge Ogden. So confident are they that they have a clear case against Mrs. Martin, even without further corroborative evidence, that papers are about to be prepared on which Mrs. Martin may be brought here from Weaverville within the next few days. When District Attorney Hall of Trinity county returns to Weaverville, probably the last of this week or early in the coming week, he will be accompanied by a representative of the local detective bureau who will be armed with the necessary legal documents for the removal of the now notorious prisoner from her cell in the Trinity county prison to the matron's ward in the Oakland city jail.

New Evidence Unearthed.

When "Baby John" led the detectives to the hiding place of a quantity of dynamite in the DeFremery park at Adelphi and Sixteenth streets shortly after his arrival in Oakland yesterday, whatever doubt had existed in the minds of the authorities as to the truth of the lad's allegations that Mrs. Martin had not only arranged for the dynamiting of Judge Ogden's home, but had planned other such crimes, was dispelled. No more evidence is necessary to lead the police to the opinion that the woman was capable of going to any extremes to wreak vengeance on those against whom she entertained grievances.

That much new evidence of a startling nature against the woman has been unearthed is not denied by the local detectives and police. They promise in the near future to give out a statement which will create more of a sensation than anything heretofore made known concerning the plans of Mrs. Martin against her alleged enemies.

WOMAN KEPT SLAYING OF HER SON SECRET FOR YEAR

Woman's Strange History Disclosed

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Investigation following the startling charge of Mrs. Paul Roy, as she is better known, Gladiolus, a singer, that her brother, George A. Carlin, who was supposed to have committed suicide at Newington, N. H., was in reality murdered by Roy, has brought a new feature to the light.

It appears from the story told by Mrs. Roy in accusing her husband of killing her brother, that her mother, Mrs. Kelly, found out the secret on the day Carlin was buried. She said the mother had gathered up the clothing which Carlin wore when he was killed and found bullet holes in the back of the coat.

"When she found those bullet holes and blood stains," said Mrs. Roy, "she rushed into the room where Paul was sitting and thrust the blood-stained clothing in his face, saying: 'Oh, you coward, you have killed also my boy in the back and you have lied also.'"

My husband jumped up and caught her by the hand. I shot sonny, but it was in self-defense," he said. "He had his own pistol out and was shooting at me. I had to shoot to save my own life."

Strange Life Revealed.

Strange facts relating to Mrs. Roy's eventful history have also been disclosed by the investigations. Her career began in Portsmouth, N. H., included a series of adventures in New York and New England and reached its height in Paris, where she lived for several years.

It was in 1890 that she started from Portsmouth, announcing that she intended to make a name for herself on the stage.

Nothing more was heard from her in her home city until three years later. She had developed into a strikingly beautiful woman during her absence and her beauty and manner of dressing created a sensation when she returned to Portsmouth.

Admirer Leaves Navy.

Among her admirers was a young lieutenant at the Portsmouth navy yard. For some reason the attention of the navy department was called to the attachment and inquiry begun, with the result that the lieutenant left the service. Immediately after the young lady took the stage name of Gladiolus Hodgdon and appeared in numerous productions as a dancer with Louis Fuller. While playing in Worcester, Mass., she became acquainted with William Murray, a Boston millinery salesman, and a little later they were married at Newburyport, Mass.

For a while they lived at a Boston hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Southern. Early in 1894 they established themselves in Watertown, and a few months later, in Watertown, Mr. and Mrs. Southern departed, and the young woman, in 1894, resumed her position as the occupant of a home in Portsmouth.

Charged With Blackmail.

In the two years prior to the advent in Beaver Hill of Gladiolus Hodgdon, two women, Virginia Lewis and Miss Norton, conducted a profitable cigar store. When Gladiolus Hodgdon's appearance there so the cigar business to one "George A. Carlin," of Boston and became part of Gladiolus Hodgdon's household. In October 1904, William C. Southern brought suit against George A. Carlin for alienating the affections of his wife and daughter. Sheriff Raymond attached the cigar store for $400.

There was no trial. While the case was on the Supreme Court docket in Essex county, "Mr. Barnes" instituted

JUDGE WASTE ON MRS. MARTIN'S LITTLE LIST

Police Have Evidence That the Jurist Was Marked to Be Dynamited.

for future use, it has been decided by the police to lend all their efforts toward securing a conviction of the woman on the charge of dynamiting the Ogden home.

The penalty for discharging high explosives or causing them to be discharged in places dangerous to human life is punishable by imprisonment in a penal institution for not less than one year, which means life.

Punishment Provided.

This punishment is provided for in Section 601 of the Penal Code, which reads as follows:

"Any person who maliciously deposits or explodes or who attempts to explode, in, under, or near any building, vessel, boat, railroad, tramroad or cable road, or any train, or car, or any depot, stable, car house, theater, school house, church, dwelling house or other place where human beings usually inhabit, assemble, frequent, or pass and repass, any dynamite, nitro-glycerine, vigorite, giant or Hercules powder, gunpowder or other chemical compound, with the intent to injure or destroy such building, vessel, boat or other structure, or with the intent to injure, intimidate or terrify any human being, or by means of which any human being is injured or endangered, is guilty of a felony and punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not less than one year."

Ingenuus Exploding Device.

One item of evidence which points to the cunning mind of the woman, in concocting her alleged schemes to wreck homes and destroy human life is in the shape of an alarm clock of ordinary pattern which was brought from Weaverville by Detective Hodgkins and is now being carefully guarded by the police. Yesterday it was said, as published in THE TRIBUNE, that the clock had been arranged that dynamite could be exploded at any hour at which the alarm mechanism should be set. But a close examination of the clock and its workings has ended in the discovery that even a more clever plan had been devised by the owner of the clock for its use in connection with the discharging of explosives.

In the top of the clock two small holes had been carefully bored directly in line with the wheel shaft in the alarm workings of the time-piece. Through these holes a fine silk thread was passed and tied to the shaft. The other end of the string was to have been secured to a cork in a bottle of acid lying above dynamite caps imbedded in dynamite. When the alarm spring should be set to unwinding, the string would gradually be wound around the shaft, with the result that in time the string would be sufficiently tightened to release the cork from the bottle, the acid would pour over the caps, creating high heat and the explosion would follow. In the opinion of the police, no more dastardly or criminally clever scheme was ever developed in the mind of the felon.

Explosive Highly Dangerous.

Captain of Detectives Petersen was advised by police experts that the dynamite "neared yesterday in the De Fremery park was in a highly dangerous condition, owing to the fact that the tin box in which it had been stowed away was undergoing the so-called "sweating" process. This "sweating" in the opinion of the expert, causes dampness, followed by a drying out heat, which in time would act in such a manner as to create shock to the powder would explode it with all violence. For this reason the police yesterday refused to allow the box containing the powder to be handled after it had once been placed in a locker near the detectives headquarters in the city prison.

"Baby John" Light-hearted.

One of the features of the case which has attracted the attention of the officials who have custody of "Baby" John is the change in his disposition since being freed from charge of Mrs. Martin. He seems light-hearted and more like a boy should be. While there are no traces of worry or excitement on his well-molded features there is an air of sadness in his whole expression which tells better than words the story of his eventful young life.

Boy Is Well Treated.

The boy has already gained the respect of the jail keepers at the city prison and in fact all of the officials who have had dealings with him. He is being given the best of attention, is taken out to restaurants for his meals and accompanies detectives about the city for exercise. The boy is still the legal prisoner of District Attorney Allen of Trinity county and will return to Weaverville with that official upon his return to his home.

One of the peculiar developments in the Martin case today is that the superior judges of Alameda county on the bench in Oakland are barred from trying Mrs. Martin on the charge of dynamiting the home of Superior Judge Ogden. This is due to the fact that the Alameda County Bar Association offered a reward for the arrest of the dynamiter, the judges of this city being members of the bar association. District Attorney Brown has been requested to give an opinion in this direction. Provided the judges are barred from trying the case some judge from an adjoining district will sit.

THINKS SHE WOULD HAVE MURDERED 'BABY' JOHN

Trinity's District Attorney Is Convinced Mrs. Martin So Planned.

"I am firmly convinced that Mrs. Isabella Martin had planned to take the life of 'Baby John' as soon as she had used him as her tool to carry out a career of crime carefully mapped out in her brain, in my opinion one of the best developed minds in things criminal with which this State has ever had to deal."

This startling statement was made this morning by District Attorney Hall of Trinity county who accompanied "Baby John" and his other custodians to this city from Weaverville. To the opinion of District Attorney Hall, Mrs. Martin is a fiend incarnate. He makes the other statement that she is a moral and physical coward and that she has lived in fear of exposure for some time past.

Baby John, Too, He Says.

"She never would have dared to do herself what she has made the boy do," he said, "and as soon as she had carried out her plans to murder those fancied whom she held grievances, fancied or real, it is evident that she would have blotted out the young life of the lad whom she terrorized into committing some of the most daring and remarkable crimes in the history of the State."

"I will return soon to Weaverville and the boy will accompany me. Provided the Grand Jury returns an indictment against Mrs. Martin, an official body of detectives Hodgkins, will accompany us armed with legal papers for the removal of Mrs. Martin to Oakland for trial on the charge of dynamiting the home of Superior Judge Ogden. Yes, the dynamite found in the De Fremery park was to have been used against a man high in public life whose name has not heretofore been mentioned in connection with the Martin case. I am not at liberty to make known the identity of that man."

Boy in Her Power.

"Mrs. Martin is a moral and physical coward, but she held the boy in her power. He has been questioned as to why he committed acts which he knew were wrong and he has invariably replied that his fear of the woman had driven him to all his wrongdoings. He has told me that Mrs. Martin said she would surely shoot him if he ever informed on her and said that if she herself could not 'Baby' John to kill him, her son Henry would do the act for her. The boy has lived practically alone with the woman all his life and it is not strange that he should have been under her influence."

Life Saved by Confession.

"It is thanks that his life was saved by his confession. Had he gone on carrying out the wishes of the woman he would probably have been done away with after all the criminal acts evidently planned by Mrs. Martin had been carried out. The boy says that he feels like a man just released from jail since he has been freed from Mrs. Martin's charge. His case is a strange one. It is probable that his identity will be established when Mrs. Martin is brought to trial. Just what stand Mrs. Martin will take in connection with the boy when she is called for trial remains to be seen. No matter what she does in this direction, however, will make no difference. There is a strong case against her. The boy's statements have been proved beyond question. He is a truthful, manly youngster and with proper training will make a good man."

It is hard to believe that a woman is capable of the acts charged against Mrs. Martin, but now evidence is cropping up every day to show that the boy's confession was the truth."

SAYS WOMEN USE STORE AS SALOON

Mrs. J. E. Jones Also Claims Feminine Whist Players Imbibe Intoxicating Beverages.

Pledging themselves to promote the cause of temperance in the public schools, the Oakland Women's Christian Temperance Union Institute adjourned yesterday afternoon after a two-day session held in the First Methodist Church. The institute was one of the most successful of the delegates to assist in the distribution of temperance literature in the schools.

Mrs. J. E. Jones of Fontaine gave an interesting address on teaching temperance in Sunday Schools.

Pupils Dislike Preaching.

"If we leave the matter of teaching temperance to the day school the teacher may be too busy to attend to it, or too indifferent in the matter to give it his best effort."

"I visited a school in this State and listened to their recital of the school teach the temperance lesson as found in the text books. The pupils ranged in age from about ten to sixteen years. He told them of what alcohol is made of, the amount contained in different beverages, such as wines, beer and brandies, quoted statistics as to amounts made and consumed, and said that the amount of revenue therefrom, but said not a word on the moral aspects of the case or about liquor's effect on society or the individual."

"Had I been a boy in that class I should have concluded it was very good, paying business and one in which I could wisely invest; capital, had I no other means of knowledge except that furnished me by the man in charge of the lesson."

"He remarked to me after dismissal of the school that 'young people do not like to be preached at, and he left them to draw their own conclusions.'"

"The Sunday school is a very good, but it is limited to a few moments, may drop a seed seemingly unregarded, that may blossom and bear fruit years afterward. In fact we are now reaping a harvest of temperance fruits planted at through to years since the first temperance societies were formed."

Seven Prohibition States.

In the United States are lying under temperance, or rather prohibition, laws.

"I was told recently that a man in Oakland fills an innocent looking suit case with whisky and carries it with him to Berkeley to dispose of it. If there were none of it and if the United States it would not be so easy to cheat Uncle Sam as it is to cheat local authorities."

"Seven States are now on the honor roll of prohibition."

SOCIETY IS TO EXTEND WELCOME

Will Make Miss Barney Be Glad She Is Back in Oakland.

Society is preparing to welcome back to Oakland Miss Marian Barney, a native of this city, who has won success in the stage, and now returns to play with the stock company at Ye Liberty Playhouse. This handsome and talented young lady will make her first appearance with the Bishop players next Tuesday evening. She will have one of the principal roles in the brilliant comedy, "The Boys of Company B."

Miss Barney gave up society to become an actress. She attended the Snell Seminary as a girl, and later went to the University of California. At the time she had found a career on the other side of the footlights. The stage called to her insistently and had for her stronger attraction than did the drawing-room.

So Miss Barney went upon the stage and established her right to seek recognition there. She has come back to her old friends with a valuable experience, having played in some of the best companies in the country.

There will be a number of box parties on Tuesday evening. There will be no regular performance in Ye Liberty on Monday evening, for the society will try its talents at vaudeville for the benefit of free beds for sick and crippled children in Fabiola Hospital.

An edition will surely be tendered Miss Barney. Already it is evident that the theater will be crowded.

Many Sleepless Nights. Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably attended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Harner, editor of the Burlingame Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough put in an appearance and my wife, according to the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since. This remedy is for sale at Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets."

APPROACHES INTO ALAMEDA TO BE REBUILT

Supervisor Bridge Declares Work Will Be Done in Few Months.

"Before another winter the city of Alameda will have two first-class approaches," said Supervisor William Bridge, whose character as a public official was mentioned in an article in a San Francisco paper this morning in an interview.

"I do not care what the San Francisco Call says, and I will not pay any attention to it. I will only pay attention to the wants and desires of the people of my district, and I think they are satisfied with the efforts I have put forth since I have been the supervisor of their district. I have heard nothing to the contrary from any of the residents of the district."

Extended Efforts.
"It has always been my desire and I have extended every effort toward having first-class approaches into the city of Alameda. Sufficient funds have not been available up to the present time to do this work, but before another winter I am confident and can assure the people of Alameda that the approaches to their city will be in first-class condition."

"I admit that the Fruitvale avenue and 'cut-off' approaches to Alameda are not in the best condition, but I have had the worst portions repaired temporarily, pending the permanent construction of new roadways. The high street approach to Alameda is in good condition at the present time."

Will Do Work.
"I did not desire to expend all the available funds in repairing the approaches, as I think it better to wait a short time until the work can be done permanently and in first-class shape."

After the first of July funds will be available for the work and it will be done in the fall. During my term of office I have been instrumental in having many roads built and repaired in this district and I am satisfied that the residents of my district are satisfied with my every official effort.

"Mayor Taylor of Alameda called on me at a meeting of the board of supervisors several months ago and it was explained to him at the time that funds were not available at the time for the reconstruction of the approaches to Alameda, but he was told that the work would be done in the fall of this year, when more funds were on hand."

TROY ADMITS

not want to drag a third party into this case."

Attorney Cook appealed to the court and the witness then replied.

"A member of the water committee of the board of supervisors, Mr. Daniel Murphy, a friend of mine, suggested this would be a good time to press this action, as something must be done to remedy the water conditions in San Francisco. If something is not done soon, in five years we will have scarcely water enough for two hours of the day."

Denounced Tevis.
Troy then launched into a bitter denunciation of Lloyd Tevis, whom he said, had the worst reputation of any man in the State of California. He stated he was a liar and a horse thief, and that he personally knew of a friend of his who had been swindled by him in a petty manner.

He then went on to explain that it was the interests of the water supply that had led him to swear to this complaint, and when he was asked by the prosecutor as to whether he believed this to be a criminal libel, he again made Lloyd Tevis, who was the father of W. S. Tevis.

He stated further he had not drawn up the complaint in this case, but that it had been drafted by Mr. Murphy. "Who selected the articles for libel?" he was asked.

"I don't know. I suppose Mr. Murphy did," was the answer.

"Why didn't you take the articles in May, 1907?"

"I don't know; I can't recollect."

"Why did you take two articles instead of one?"

"I don't know anything about that."

"Have you been personally interested in the Hatch-Hatchy proposition, or the Bay City water proposition?"

"Only so far as the interests of the city were concerned."

"Mr. Troy, how will a verdict of guilty or not guilty in this case help the water company?"

"If the defendants prove their case it will make the people of the city and State take notice, and, my God! it's time they did."

"Wasn't the main object of your swearing to this complaint to bring out the merits of the new water system?"

"It was my main object, yes."

"It was this witness was turned over to the attorneys for the defense and questioned by Attorney Roche as to whether he had consulted with Crothers and Older about the institution of proceedings in this case, and he replied that he had not. He also stated that he had not called at the offices of Messrs. Sullivan & Sullivan & Roche in regard to this case."

A long discussion into the merits of the respective water systems followed, during which Troy endeavored to explain exactly what had made him so interested in the present proceedings.

Up to noon today only ten jurors had been secured to try the libel case of W. S. Tevis against the Bulletin. Two more jurors are required to complete the panel.

JUROR CAUSES LAUGH.
At the afternoon session, Henry Meyer of 157 Philet street, a confectioner was asked if he had an interest in or owned land in Fresno county. This was objected to by Attorney Cook on the ground that nothing effecting Kern county was involved in the case. The court sustained the objection.

Attorney Roche, for the defendants, desired that Mr. Tevis had large interests in Fresno county and that ownership of property there by the defendant might lessen the taleman and the complainant.

Later in answer to a question as to suffering and dollars saved, E. S. Loper of Marilla, N. T., says, "I am a carpenter and have had many severe cuts healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It has saved me suffering and dollars. It is by far the best healing salve I have ever found." Heals burns, sores, ulcers, and cancer, eczema and piles. 25¢ at Osgood Bros., druggists, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets.

WIRES HER MOTHER FROM MARIN: "I AM MARRIED"

MRS. GEORGE WESTPHAL (NEE JENSEN).

Miss Edna Jensen Is Wedded in Secret

Without telling any one, Miss Edna Jensen and George Westphal of this city stole away Monday morning to San Rafael and were married.

The name of the clergyman, who united the young couple is not known to the bride's mother, Mrs. E. Jensen of 933 Poplar street, who received a telegram late Monday afternoon from her daughter that she was married. Mrs. Jensen said this morning that she was surprised, although she was told by her daughter that she intended to marry on Monday.

Mrs. George Westphal is well known in musical and social circles about the bay, where she has a host of friends and enjoys much popularity. She is very fascinating and is a Gibson type of beauty with many rare accomplishments. Since the earthquake she has made her home in this city.

George Westphal is the son of J. C. Westphal, president of the Bay City Flour Mill Company. He is an enterprising young business man and is very popular in commercial and fraternal circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Westphal will be given a reception upon their return to this city, where they will make their home.

The Older-Tevis Libel Case.

The trial of Fremont Older and R. A. Crothers, charged with criminal libel on W. S. Tevis, of Bakersfield, in San Francisco, casts an instructive sidelight on the methods of the so-called graft prosecution and the peculiar connection between Rudolph Spreckels, District Attorney Langdon and the management of the Bulletin, of which Older and Crothers are editor and proprietor respectively.

The articles in the Bulletin attacking the character of Mr. Tevis were manifestly a part of the private prosecution program, James D. Phelan, of whom the Bulletin has long been the servile mouthpiece, being the personal enemy of Mr. Tevis.

Rudolph Spreckels, director-general of the miscalled graft prosecution, attends the court proceedings as a backer of the defense, which makes him appear as a voucher for the articles assailing Mr. Tevis. The leading attorney for Older and Crothers is Hiram Johnson, one of the special attorneys for the Spreckels-Phelan private prosecution. The prosecution is being conducted by District Attorney Langdon, the servile instrument of Spreckels and Phelan and a political connubiator with Fremont Older, which, of course, makes the whole proceeding a farce. H. S. Packard of Kern county, attorney for Tevis, declined to have anything to do with it, charging that it was a piece of collusive chicanery to protect Older and Crothers from being tried in Bakersfield, where the warrant for the arrest of the defendants was originally sworn out.

Judge Dooling of San Benito is presiding at the trial. The case was originally assigned to Judge Dunne at the suggestion of Langdon, but that was too raw for even the blunted sensibilities of Dunne, so the San Benito judge was called in to sit. Judge Dooling has the reputation of being an honorable, high-minded man, and there is no reason to suspect his good faith and fairness in the matter. But he cannot compel the case to be properly presented or prevent covert collusion between the pretended prosecution and the defense. He has, indeed, been constrained to rebuke the attorneys for trying to make the graft crusade the issue in the case. Nevertheless, the prosecution is practically allowing the defense to select its own jury.

The Bulletin's attacks on Mr. Tevis were inspired, if not directly prompted, by James D. Phelan. Early in the graft crusade it was given out by the prosecution that damaging evidence had been obtained against Tevis and that he would be indicted for bribery. Phelan publicly made defamatory statements regarding Tevis. The latter denounced Phelan as a liar and challenged him to present proofs to substantiate his charges. Phelan presented no proofs and no indictments were returned against Tevis. Later on, however, the Bulletin, which is regarded as Phelan's organ, began printing a series of villainous attacks on Tevis, the articles dealing with the same matters which Phelan had introduced as the basis for his animadversions.

Tevis, who resides in Kern county, sued out a warrant in Bakersfield for the arrest of the editor and proprietor of the Bulletin on charges of criminal libel. After exhausting all technical objections to a hearing in Kern county, one E. P. E. Troy, a chronic agitator and fugleman of Phelan, swore to a complaint in San Francisco charging his friends Older and Crothers with libelling Tevis, who has been frequently denounced by Troy. The object of this proceeding was to protect Older and Crothers from the Kern county prosecution, and allow them to be prosecuted by their allies in a friendly court. At the instance of Langdon the case was assigned to Dunne, who for once balked at taking the dose.

This is the case being tried before Judge Dooling in San Francisco. It is of a piece with the indictment of Luther Brown at the instance of Heney for causing the arrest of Older on a Los Angeles warrant charging criminal libel. A part of the same game is the fake libel suit instituted against THE TRIBUNE in the name of the First National Bank of San Francisco at the direct instigation of Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan. All of these separate cases are examples of the manner in which the machinery of the law is being prostituted to serve vicious and selfish ends. They are component parts of the immunity deals with Ruef and the boodling Supervisors.

Preparing for the Battleship Fleet.

Secretary of the Navy Metall has announced his intention to publish the itinerary of the battleship fleet along the California coast two weeks in advance, so that at the ports of call the citizens will have ample opportunity to complete the arrangements to welcome the officers and men. The first port of call will be San Diego. It will be a great event in the history of that harbor, whether the big ships enter it or cast anchor in the roadstead off Point Loma and Coronado beach. San Pedro and possibly Santa Barbara will be visited afterward in turn. If the coast is free of fog after getting clear of the Santa Barbara channel the passage of the fleet northward will be witnessed by all of the seashore communities from Santa Barbara to the Golden Gate. The ships will probably be kept near enough inshore to enable the people to watch the imposing procession from the land as it steams majestically on its course.

Everything is shaping satisfactorily in each of the bay cities, so that each one will provide a separate entertainment for officers and men. But the respective committees are co-operating, however, so that one community's reception program will not be interfered with by that of any other. Crossing the lines of the various receptions must be avoided at all hazards. Each of the bay cities is raising a handsome fund. President Thomas Williams of the New California Jockey Club showed his patriotism Tuesday by heading the subscription list in this city with a check of $1000. His example should be followed by half a hundred other citizens who can as well afford to put up the amount. San Diego is raising a fund of $20,000, which is about equal to $1 for every inhabitant. Los Angeles, with its reputed population of 300,000, will probably raise as much money as San Francisco has set as a mark, namely, $100,000. Oakland's entertainment fund has been fixed at $50,000. Berkeley will raise $20,000, and possibly more, and Alameda will put up at least $10,000 for the purpose.

The announcement that the First National Bank of New York, controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan and the Standard Oil magnates, has declared a dividend of 100 per cent on its $10,000,000 capital is proof positive that Morgan and his associates reaped an enormous harvest out of the financial flurry in Wall Street last October.

GATHERING THEM IN.

THE MAN ON THE JOB—"THIS HIGH-PRESSURE SYSTEM IS GREAT!"

CHICAGO NEWS.

Toleration of Plague-Breeding Dens.

The Federal health officers have been for several weeks actively impressing upon the bay communities the necessity of general cleaning up and the extermination of rats as a precaution against an outbreak of plague when the warm weather sets in. Oakland has set aside a large fund for sanitary improvement. Notices have been served generally on householders to clean up their premises, and, with few exceptions, they have observed the health office regulations. The department has kept the streets in Chinatown fairly clean, but the sanitary condition of some of the tenements in the quarters is bad. On the outskirts of the quarters, where small colonies have been established, plague-breeding dens are being tolerated.

There is, for example, No. 219 Fifth street. It is a small six-room cottage and basement. But within it, and a little shack addition in the rear, are huddled together from forty to fifty Chinese, many of them sick and too feeble to move about. Deaths have occurred there frequently within the past six months. Last week two deaths occurred on the premises and the county coroner was called in to inspect the bodies. Both deaths were due to tuberculosis. But when Coroner Tisdale inspected the premises he denounced their condition in the strongest terms he could command and declared that the building should be condemned as unfit for human habitation. Complaints have been lodged with the health department by property-owners in the neighborhood, superficial inspections have been made, alleged remedies applied and now the county coroner pronounces the place a nursery for disease. It is all very well to enjoin our citizens to keep their properties in good sanitary condition, as a preventive of plague, but it is little short of criminal to tolerate in any part of the city a hotbed for its propagation. All these dens of filth and disease should be wiped out.

Some Neat Hair Ornaments

At the present time considerable attention is given to the art of beautifully dressing the hair, and not for many seasons has the hair been dressed better, nor furnished with more artistic ornaments. It seems there is no limit to the amount of ornaments one may use providing they are rich-looking and artistic. But quite often the arrangement of decorations is simply itself and more beautiful than gorgeous. This often occurs where the ornaments are the pretty crescent pieces made of fine tulle flowers and ribbons.

One very neat piece seen this week was made of ribbon. The crescent was formed of miniature forget me nots, each side made fluffy with white tulle and maiden hair ferns. This piece was extremely handsome and splendidly made. It rested on a small wire foundation.

Another graceful ornament consisted of a pale yellow gauze butterfly poised on a fold of white and yellow gauze. The small "rosettes" at each end were fastened at the sides of the high coiffure.

Pink ostrich tips very tiny affairs are used with ribbons of the same color for an ornament. They are imbedded in a chiffon rosette and worn at one side of the hair.

A coquet of pale violets looked exceedingly well on a rope of violet and white gauze which encircled the low coiffure. The braid of hair was coiled around the head. The ornament was fast to give a more rounded appearance to the round coiffure.

Another neat effect was seen in tulle rosettes mixed with gilded leaves pink and frosted silver leaves red and gold yellow and white were a few of the numerous combinations seen.

Mrs. Bryan Is 'THE FIRST LADY IN THE LAND' To William Jennings

Democracy's Idol Pays Beautiful Tribute to the Brilliant and Charming Woman Who Has Helped Him in His Career.

MRS. W. J. BRYAN.

BUFFALO, Feb. 27.—William J. Bryan's declaration of confidence in his wife's ability to acquire herself creditably if she were mistress of the White House made at a luncheon given by Buffalo's most exclusive women's club, has caused no end of talk among the members of the club.

Tonight members of the Twentieth Century Club and other women who chanced to be present at the luncheon gathered in groups and discussed the propriety of the proceeding.

Mrs. Bryan who was in Buffalo under the guidance of the Erie County General Committee and made a political speech, was guest of Mrs. Norman E. Mack wife of the Democratic national committeeman at the regular week-end luncheon of the club. He sat at Mrs. Mack's table with Mayor Johnson and other guests. He had been asked to make an address on Abraham Lincoln and had been requested not to inject politics. But his first words created consternation.

"An Eastern society woman," he said, "has been quoted as being quite solicitous as to whether Mrs. Bryan would be capable of conducting her social duties with propriety."

"I take the opportunity of saying in public something about a woman whose aid to me in my public career I unhesitatingly acknowledge."

"She is a very superior woman. She is a college graduate and is deeply read on many subjects."

"After our marriage she studied law and perfected her knowledge in it. It makes herself a more complete helpmate to me in my public career. She studied economics and political economy."

"I unhesitatingly take her advice. Some of our friends quiz me by saying that she is superior as a public man to her husband."

"As to her social abilities, I have no fears of her ability to conduct herself with propriety and credit."

"There was little applause and much evident embarrassment," a Mr. Bryan spoke these words.

Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland who was next introduced, said "I am glad of the opportunity to add my voice in praise of Mrs. Bryan. She is unquestionably a superior woman. I well remember when Mr. Bryan and I were members of Congress. He made a speech for which he was congratulated on all sides. Some one asked him, 'Did Mrs. Bryan write that speech?'"

"I remember his reply: 'She might have done so, she is clever enough.'"

DRIVEN MAD BY SIGHT OF LOST WIFE IN PICTURES

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Feb. 27.—Driven frantic by a glimpse of the form and face of his long lost wife on the screen in a moving picture show, George Cosbetta, wealthy, is locked up in a cell here pending hearing on a lunacy charge.

Cosbetta was captured "raving in the streets" by Patrolman George Hannis. He had torn his clothes in his grief. At the police station he was questioned but he only cried, over and over, "My wife! My wife!"

It was learned that he had walked the streets all night, after rushing early in the evening from a moving picture show where he had dashed to the front of the room crying out "My wife! My wife! I have found you!"

A New York street scene had just appeared.

Mrs. Cosbetta disappeared five years ago and her husband has spent thousands of dollars traveling in the hope of finding her and effecting a reconciliation.

How You Know You Are in Love

When one man's faults are dearer to you than another man's virtues when you never weary of being with him when you think his commonplace utterances the embodiment of wit and wisdom when you don't care whether he is handsome, romantic, distinguished, rich or poor then and not till then may the romantic girl come to the conclusion that she is no longer heart free.

Give Girls Smoking Room

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 27.—Sit in a very quiet colored room of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, several bright-eyed ambition-fueled girls can be found nowadays idly smoking cigarettes.

In this little room which is away from the sounding noise and echoes of the classic corridors of the temple of art, Bohemia is now holding fullest sway and all the students are ineffably happy.

Every one of those gracefully, willowy and ambitious young women are as happy and care free as Bohemia itself for they have just won a long hard battle against the board of directors of the Academy of Fine Arts.

A moral victory, the young women call it. A concession the directors call it.

The directors are said to have finally yielded and consented to the establishment of this smoking room after the young girl students had openly defied the rules of the academy by dropping cigarette butts upon the floor.

Young ladies shall not smoke in the corridors, the directors had ordered. The young women protested fought it out before the board and finally had a smoking room established.

BEAUTIFUL TEXAS HEROINE,

Miss Adina de Zavado,
Starving and Faint From Thirst,
SURRENDERS THE ALAMO,
After Standing Siege for Three Days to Defend Historic Fort.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 27.—Miss Adina de Zavado who stood siege for three days without food or water in the old Alamo, the historical fort in which Bowie lost his life has capitulated to the State. She was literally starved into submission, but retains her darling spirit of patriotism.

The forces of Sheriff Tobin who yesterday tried to capture the fort, are still trapped on the Plaza. Her attorneys said tonight she would leave tomorrow morning and turn the fort over as ordered by the court.

Earlier she declared she would starve before she would surrender.

"My grandfathers died for this fort and I will die rather than give it up," she said.

Miss de Zavado was formerly President of the Daughters of the Republic. The organization split into two factions over the fight for possession of the Alamo, in which Miss de Zavado's grandfather, General de Zavado, fought to the freedom of Texas.

It was recently proposed to sell the Alamo, but Miss de Zavado refused to permit this. Every effort was made to drive her from the fort, but the courageous young woman defeated both the forces of Sheriff Tobin and Governor Caspello. This placed her in contempt of court. Governor Caspello today sent the State Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds to San Antonio to induce her to vacate the building and it was to him that she agreed to yield it.

One faction of the Daughters of the Republic, opposing Miss de Zavado, this afternoon behind closed doors formulated plans to carry on the campaign to control the ancient structure and the patronage going with it.

The strife between the women has become so bitter that no judge in the Texas bench was anxious to take up the case. Many of the judges were disqualified because of having relatives interested in the fight which covered the entire State. The de Zavado faction was enjoined from molesting or in any way interfering with the Alamo property, but Miss de Zavado emphatically declared that unless her lawyers advised her to vacate she would maintain her attitude until she was dragged out by main force or starved to death.

The Governor was kept advised by wire of the progress his representatives were making to bring an end to the warfare. If an agreement had not been reached by tomorrow he intended to come to San Antonio and assume the role of field marshal. Crowds of townspeople and tourists have visited the scene to watch developments.

"PRINCESS IN WHITE" PRAYS FOR UNCLE SAM TO HELP HER To Get Back Her Property in Serbia She Is A CALIFORNIA GIRL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—With in the past ten days the Princess Lazarovich, wife of the claimant to the Serbian throne and Macedonian leader Prince Eugene Lazarovich has had several interviews with Secretary of State Root in regard to her property rights in Serbia.

The Princess is an American and was Miss Eleanor Calhoun of California, and connected with the Calhoun of South Carolina. It is understood that she takes nothing of the State Department name in Serbia, even before her marriage and that land and estates given her by her husband under marriage contract be restored to her.

In regard to the fight that her husband is putting up for a union of the Balkan states and in which it is believed he will ultimately succeed the Princess naturally expects this country to do nothing. Some day her husband may succeed and she may be crowned by the throne of Serbia.

Queen of the peasant King Peter since the assassination of King Ferdinand at the Union Drago.

At the State Department the Princess is known only to a few. To all others she is the "Princess in White" and a mystery. The greatest consideration shown to her. The hour selected when she is to have an audience with Secretary Root is when there is no one to disturb the conference. She is conducted through the corridors by Brigadier General Chasler, former military attaché to the Hague. The deference paid the Princess is remarkable, and the fact that the official doors swing open for her when others are denied admittance shows that her mission is one of importance.

When the Princess reached Washington she was armed with letters that immediately established her prestige. Since then the department has been busy with her case.

The Princess ended her career on the stage at a time when the world was opening before her. It was while in London and earning the well-deserved reputation of being the greatest Lady Macbeth since Charlotte Cushman that she married the Prince.

She had been a student under Sardou in Paris. She had played Shakespeare in London and had been accepted by all. She had played the leading roles of a score of productions and her position was second to none on the stage.

As an evidence of her worth Terry Irving and Bertha Tree appeared with her at the faraway. It was the money she amassed as a player in Paris and London for America saw little of her—that the Princess invested in Serbia.

Then after her marriage, in fact, as her marriage portion it is said Prince Eugene settled upon her vast estates. Since King Peter's accession to the throne the estates have been seized by the crown. Not only have those lands that belonged to the Prince and which he gave to her been taken, but the lands that were hers before her marriage and in which he never had any interest have been confiscated.

It is said.

As a claimant to the crown the lands of the Princess have been taken and it is said that hers have been confiscated because she is his wife. It is these lands or their equivalent she wants.

The Princess never has been a claimant for the throne, and stands on her rights as an American citizen. That lands, it is said, she claims she bought for investment on the advice of the Prince before her marriage.

Of course the Princess is a firm advocate of the right of her husband to the throne of Serbia as he is a descendant of the dynasty that ruled for 800 years. The dream of the Prince has been for the union of Serbia, Bulgaria, Montenegro and Macedonia.

He has kept the Macedonian movement in London alive and is its recognized head. He is wealthy aside from the property in Serbia.

It was said that anything the government could consistently do to help the Princess would be done, and that at present she had shown the State Department enough to interest it in her case.

CUPID AND PLUTUS CALL

TRENTON, Feb. 27.—Frederick Guyer, formerly a potter here who is now conducting a small farm in Morrisville, wonders if fortune really has come to him. He received a cable message at his home last night notifying his wife that she was heir to $5,000 left by a relative who recently died in Germany. At all events, he will go across the sea to claim the fortune.

Ten years ago Mr. Guyer married a poor immigrant girl at Ellis Island both having been detained there for a short time after they arrived from Germany. They married on the second day of their detention.

MAKES HER SO MAD! Suffragette Rages at the Way Men Keep House

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Man's house-keeping came in for a horrible exposure at the hand of an outraged suffragette who from the safe eminence of the little wheeled platform which announced Votes for Women, to the crowd at Madison Square saw the lords of creation call order.

Order! cried Mrs. Lydia Kingsmill Commander. "It is a condition in any family that would bring down in any family in the State if the woman were responsible. You all know how a man keeps house—the one hundred and fifty men who were listening grinned appreciatively—as he all over the table, egg shells on the kitchen stove, every bed unmade every room unwiped, every dish dirty and the man sits in the midst of it smoking his pipe perfectly content. Don't deny it."

Mrs. Commander's accusing glance did not let a man escape.

And when the woman comes home what does she do? She cleans up. She continues triumphantly. "And that's what she would do for your city house-keeping. Man's house-keeping. The City Hall is just as bad as it is in his own kitchen. I see dead cats and garbage about the streets. I breathe dirt everywhere. And there is still another need attention—seeing that everybody is well fed."

It was just here that a sandwich man paused on the edge of the throng to listen. The words above his head read "Want a good lunch in a hurry?"

But Mrs. Commander had rushed on to the capital.

National house-keeping she was saying so that there may not be so many women freezing to death on our streets and babies in their arms. Sign the petition. Men Women want votes! Are they to have them?

And when she came down, a line of trailers advanced shamefacedly and asked for a pencil to sign their names.

Mrs. N. Borman Wells the English suffragette and organizer of the American "Militants" opened the meeting. A severe cold was no check to her enthusiasm and she worked heroically distributing dog-eared to advertise this suffragette parade. The start will be made from the northeast corner of Union Square at 2:30 p. m., and the route will lie up Broadway.

OLD PARTIES AIMLESS, DECLARES W. R. HEARST Urges Nomination of Independent Ticket and Criticises Roosevelt and Avoids Praise of Bryan.

(From the Chicago "Record Herald" of Tuesday, Feb. 25.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—"In your opinion who will be the Republican and Democratic nominees for President?" William Randolph Hearst was asked last night, at the close of an extended conference with the close leaders of the Independent League.

"I should say," he answered, "that there was a possibility of Roosevelt being the nominee of the Republican party, but the nominations depend upon which faction in each party gains control of the convention and as I said in my address to the league at the conference here, the policies for which the parties will stand also depend upon which faction gains control of the convention."

"The aimlessness of the old parties is well set forth in the fact that they cannot tell what their policies will be until you know who their candidates will be. Their candidates are not made to fit their principles, but their principles are made to fit their candidates."

Roosevelt the Stronger.

"Would Taft be a stronger candidate than Hughes?" and in what particular respect?" Mr. Hearst was asked.

"In reply to your question as to whether Taft or Hughes would be the stronger candidate," was the reply, "I should say that Roosevelt would be. Neither Taft nor Hughes would be a particularly strong candidate. Taft has some elements of strength, but decided elements of weakness."

"Taft has a better record of achievement than Hughes. He is a better executive than Hughes. He has the same strength among the large and powerful Catholic constituency that Roosevelt has, and for the same reason—namely, the agreeable settlement of the Friars difficulties in the Philippines."

"Taft is very weak with the labor, however, on account of his injunction decision, and he has the further weakness of possessing a set of campaign opinions that do not harmonize with his previous performances."

Career of Injunctions.

"Taft said at Cooper Union in New York that he believed that when injunctions were sought against labor, notice should be given to allow labor an opportunity to be heard before the injunction was issued."

"Taft's career is full of injunctions against labor, but I do not know of even one recorded case of his having given the notice that he says he believes in. Certainly it has not been his practice to give notice."

"Hughes is a shrewd and able corporation lawyer with all the tricks of the trade. As an artful dodger of issues he compels astonishment, if not admiration. Wherever an issue becomes sufficiently acute to compel attention Hughes appoints a commission to look into the question."

"The commission thereupon proceeds to look in at large price per look and to their eminent satisfaction. The people pay the bills and they are satisfied because they think something is being done. The interests are more than satisfied, because they know that nothing is going to be done."

Sample of Hughes' Dodging.

"The other day," continued Mr. Hearst, "a committee interested in some definite question waited upon Hughes at Albany. They asked the Governor for an expression of opinion on their case. Hughes said tentatively, 'Whatever is right will prevail.' The committee departed much edified, but somewhat of the opinion that whatever was right would have to prevail without Hughes' assistance."

"Hughes makes magnificent demonstrations against certain things that are almost out of his power to accomplish, and makes no attempt to perform things which are entirely within his power to accomplish."

"For instance, Hughes has been trying, and very properly too, to remove Kelsey, where the consent of the Senate is necessary and where there are other difficulties, but he had made no attempt to remove Jerome, as Roosevelt removed Gardner, where the consent of the Senate is not necessary and where there are no other difficulties."

Overlooks Jerome.

"Jerome has been criticised for the conduct of his cases by that eminent Republican Jurist, Judge Rosaleski. Jerome has been denounced by Jackson, the able Attorney-General of the State who has taken the conduct of the ice case from his hands, distinguished citizens have filed charges against Jerome, petitions have been circulated for his removal, but Hughes barks blithely up the tallest tree at the Kelsey coon and persistently overlooks the Jerome possum at his feet."

"As a consequence of Hughes' set plan or chronic disposition to evade issues, Hughes has no record of achievement to show to the intelligent and practical citizen who asks for results."

"The New York 'World,' which is one of Hughes' ablest supporters and which by the way was a trustful supporter of Jerome—printed during the late campaign a strong and convincing editorial showing the extraordinary power in the hands of the Governor of New York, by virtue of which he could accomplish almost anything."

Things Not Accomplished.

"Lately it printed an imposing list of things that Hughes had not accomplished and argued that Hughes ought to be re-elected Governor to continue his policies."

"The ingenuitously or else the ingenuitously of this argument interested me greatly, for it has always seemed to me that a man had not accomplished anything was a better reason for voting him out of office than it was for voting him in again."

"What do you think of the present business and financial outlook after the recent flurry? Do you think a measure will pass Congress ameliorating conditions? Will the Independent League accomplish this better than the present party and in what practical way the quickest?" the New York editor was asked.

Confidence Is Returning.

"I think that business is gradually recovering and that confidence is returning," answered Mr. Hearst.

"Honest banks which closed merely because of senseless panic are resuming and certain dishonest ones are having the evils of their management corrected and the responsible managers convicted."

"People are beginning to spend money again more freely at stores, the stores will order more freely from the factories, goods will be transported, idle cars will be put into operation, idle men will be re-employed and gradually prosperity will return."

"I think that any ill-considered and indiscriminate legislation by Congress is more likely to interfere with the return of prosperity than to hasten it. Congress is not numbered, as you might say, with financial geniuses."

"There are not enough solid business men in Congress, there are not enough earnest, thoughtful representatives to the producing classes. There are too many second-class lawyers, who sit around and maintain the atmosphere or meddle in matters they don't know anything about."

Congress Lacks Knowledge.

"What Congress does not know about finance would fill half the shelves of the Congressional library and what it does not know about other things would fill the other half."

"Of course there are some remedial measures that Congress should pass after acquiring sufficient information and indulging in the accustomed luxury of thoughtful consideration. Congress should pass an emergency currency bill. It is rather late for that bill to benefit this situation, but a bill that is carefully and fairly drawn will be of value hereafter."

"I do not advocate the Aldrich bill," Mr. Hearst continued. "It is too narrow in its terms and it limits too closely the securities upon which the government may loan its notes. Its operation would be confined largely to the greater metropolitan banking institutions and chiefly to those that Morgan and Rockefeller control."

Fair to Banks and People.

"The measure which the Independent party proposed and which Mr. Bryan has since appropriated is broader and sounder financially, fairer to all the banks and better for all the people."

"I think Congress should pass this latter, also a national corporation law to prevent overcapitalization and the reckless inflation which is one of the main causes of financial depression and the accompanying panics."

"I introduced such a law when I was in Congress, and I see that Senator Dooliver has just introduced a similar one. Preventive legislation is better than remedial legislation. The Independent Party's scheme of legislation is, I think, intelligently planned to prevent panics by compelling even the big speculative financiers to conduct their business on the same sound basis."

BISHOP FALLOWS AND HIS 'RELIGIOUS THERAPEUTICS'

His "Horrible Example" Was Wrong

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Bishop Samuel Fallows entered a new field with "Religious Therapeutics" at St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church last night, but as the "horrible example" he presented himself as a subject had evidently taken too many "drugs" for the ordeal, it is feared the cure proved unavailing in this instance.

It was the regular weekly "health conference" and the bishop spoke on "The Thought of the Master Builder." He was reaching the apex of his address when he remarked that "God would cure the evil in one who would get the thoughts of liquor out of his heart and fill it with thoughts of temperance."

A silence fell over the rest of the audience as a man in the rear of the room loudly asked, "Will God do that for me?"

"Will, dear brother," said the bishop, and then addressing the audience, he said:

"This man came to see me last night at my home. I invited him to this meeting tonight. He has his wife and baby here now."

"Show me that God will do it," insisted the intoxicated man.

Baby Mine

A mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Should Avoid Over-Legislation.

"Congress should pass several sound financial measures with the interest of the whole people in mind, but it should not disturb returning confidence by over-legislation."

"And with all great respect for President Roosevelt's honesty, I venture the statement that even he will not hasten the confidence by any half-considered action at this time."

"I believe that the restoration of confidence in legitimate business and the re-employment of thousands of worthy men out of work is now the most important business before the nation."

"I do not mean that confidence should be restored to crooks," continued Mr. Hearst, with growing emphasis, "to put big and little criminals in jail, where they belong; but I do mean that confidence should be restored to honest business and employment restored to honest working-men."

"I do say that no personal consideration or egotistic justification should interfere with the prompt restoration of confidence and the prompt renewal of employment."

"The position of President of the United States is the greatest position in the world today and probably the greatest position that the world has ever known."

"It requires honesty, energy, enthusiasm, conscience, convictions, devotion, justice and judgment. Don't overlook the judgment."

Thinks Roosevelt Lacking.

"Roosevelt possesses many mighty qualities, but he seems to me to lack judgment. There is a time to do everything and a time not to do some things. There is a time when a man should devote all of his energies to belaboring the guilty and a time when he should judiciously consider the relief of the innocently afflicted."

"Let me give a homely illustration of what I mean. If a doctor should say to you, 'Don't go around foolishly without your hat or coat or you will catch pneumonia,' that would be a proper and judiciously warning worthy of all praise. But if you had gone around without your hat and coat and had got pneumonia and the doctor should run into your room and say, 'Ah, you have got pneumonia and you are going to die,' you probably would die and the doctor would not establish a reputation for sense and judgment."

"I think this is a time for caution and careful consideration of the Congress and for caution and careful consideration on the part of the executive. With this belief that good times will soon return and I am sure that the best justification of Roosevelt's course will be not his own words of defense, but the swift return of prosperity."

Issuance of Money.

"Do you see any inconsistency in declaring the issuance of money inherent with the government and then having the government farm out the right to issue?"

"I don't see any inconsistency," was the reply, "in declaring the issuance of money inherent in the government. The constitution declares that. And I do not see any impropriety in loaning the government's notes to the banks upon securities that the banks as business enterprises have first passed upon and that the Secretary of the Treasury, as the representative of the government, further reviews."

"When notes are issued by the government they must be put into circulation through some sort of banking medium. We can have a great central bank or a department of the Treasury, which, if it performs banking functions, will be a bank whether we call it one or not."

"The objection to this system is that it would probably develop into a political bank and exercise every degree of financial favoritism and would discriminate between the supporters and opponents of the party in power and would be controlled by speculative financiers. To get rid of it we would have to go through again the fight that Jackson fought. Democrats who favor this system should begin by denouncing Jackson for destroying the United States bank."

Better Than Central Bank.

"The Independent Party's plan seems to me preferable to the central bank plan. It is an improvement upon the present system, and moreover it does not involve any sudden interference with existing business conditions."

PRIEST'S SLAYER TO PLEAD GUILTY

Anarchist, Closely Guarded,
Taken From Colorado
Springs to Denver.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 27.—Giuseppe Alo, the Italian anarchist who murdered Father Leo Heinrichs at the altar during communion service in St. Elizabeth's Church here Sunday, was brought back from Colorado Springs early this morning, whither he had been taken to prevent lynching.

Accompanied by four detectives from Denver and closely handcuffed, Alo rode the entire trip with head averted and in sullen silence. Upon arrival here at 1.30 o'clock he was hustled into a waiting cab and swiftly driven to the county jail. Barraging newspaper men, deput employees and passengers arriving on the train, there were but few persons at the union station to witness his arrival, and no demonstration of any kind occurred.

According to Alo's statement he will plead guilty when arraigned and offer no defense for his crime. In this case it is expected his trial will come to a speedy end and sentence be pronounced.

ence with existing business conditions. The Independent Party's program also includes postal savings banks.

"Does it seem to you that the members of the League at this date favor a separate nominee for President or an endorsement of Bryan?"

"I have no authority," replied the New York editor, "to express the personal preferences of the membership of the Independence Party, but from conversations with members that I have met I should say that ninety per cent of them were in favor of the Independent nomination, and that of the 10 per cent remaining perhaps 5 per cent would favor endorsing Bryan and that 5 per cent would favor endorsing Roosevelt."

"My own views are strongly in favor of an independent ticket, for my experience with fusion is that it operates much to the injury of the League and little to the advantage of principles."

The man who takes a cork out of a bottle by pushing it in is apt to do everything else on the same principle.

Six-year-old Wong Ah Yut, a Chinese maiden, is the bone of a legal contention between her parents, Wong Chong and Chin Shi, and Miss Carrie Davis of the Berkeley Mission who is now her legal guardian. The child's parents have filed a petition asking that the order appointing Miss Davis the girl's guardian be set aside.

Wong Chong, the father, admits that he signed a document agreeing to the appointment of Miss Davis, but says that he understood at the time that he was only giving the child to her care for a limited time. He now alleges that he is not permitted to see his daughter, and that she is being brought up in the Christian religion, to which he objects.

By the removal of four thumb screws, taking less than two minutes of time, the entire playing mechanism of the A. B. Chase Player-Piano may be swung outward from beneath the keyboard, so that every part of both piano and player is immediately accessible, with all the pneumatics in plain view.

Then by the further removal of thumb screws, all the valves are brought within easy reach for inspection or repair.

These features save time, expense and annoyance, as but few piano tuners understand the complicated player mechanism when made (as it is in most player-pianos) a part of the piano itself.

The A. B. Chase player-piano possesses eleven advantages over all other player-pianos.

WEST OAKLAND CLUB HOLDS BOUTS TONIGHT

MANTELL AND FARMER ATtraction AT Marysville This Evening

ABE ATTELL AND ED KELLY SHOULD PUT UP GOOD BOUT

Little Fellow From Buffalo Carries With Him the Dreaded Punch, While Abie Is Clever.

By EDDIE SMITH.

The memory of the Sullivan-Ketchel contest still lingers with the boxing fans and with the betting in the ABE ATTELL-EDDY KELLY contest at about the same prices, some of the fans are a bit skeptical as to what this fellow Kelly will do when he is confronted by the clever champion. For the writer's part he would hate to miss the contest, for the conditions surrounding this match are so different from those that forecasted the Ketchel contest that, with little fear of being accused of boasting, a contest unhesitatingly of it, I have little hesitancy in saying that the bout looks to me to be one in which a strong, rugged young fellow has a chance to come home with the championship tucked under his belt.

In the Ketchel contest the Montana fighter was made the favorite mostly through the knowledge of his sledgehammer blows with which it was expected he would eventually bring the more clever Sullivan to the floor. In this case Attell is made the favorite because he figures on doing to win, while the Ketchel contest, a strict reading of the night does would give Sullivan at least an even break. Attell being the champion of America and Kelly the challenger, it is only natural that he should be installed the favorite, but in his case it is not because he has the big wallop with which Ketchel was famous. It is the fact that he is the best known and the cleverer of the two.

Kelly Like Ketchel.

Kelly, like Ketchel, is the stronger of the two and has the best punching power. So you see, here we have two fighters meeting under the same conditions, that Ketchel and Sullivan did, the only difference being the betting odds. In the Sullivan-Ketchel contest the hard hitter was the favorite, while here the clever fellow is the first choice over the hard hitter. Of course, this argument should not be construed to mean that Kelly has the chance with Attell that Ketchel had with his opponent, for that is not so. But it is simply an illustration of the difference in the betting on contests. One of the lines that each man has had with Kelly. Kelly knocked this boxer out in one round in 1936 while Attell fought him twice four years earlier, going six rounds to a decision the first time and twenty rounds the next time. The champion won both times and even though he failed to knock his man out, the fact that he was sufficient to put him out of the running as a contender. The best line that the writer has been able to get on the chances of Kelly is his workouts with Jimmy Carroll. Carroll is one of the best of the best of the four-round boxers that San Francisco has turned out during its long run of four-round exhibitions. During the time that Carroll was meeting all-comers in the show-bout contests he met Monte Attell twice, the first contest ending in a draw and the second given to Carroll after he had secured a fair lead over Monte, who outweighed him a few pounds. ### LEW POWELL WILL MEET HARRISON IN MAIN EVENT

Pair Are Expected to Put Up a Rattling Fast Bout--Dell and Ritchie Meet Again.

The advance sale of tickets for the West Oakland Club's bouts at the new pavilion tonight indicate that the best crowd of the season will be on hand to witness the exhibitions at the nifty little club tonight.

Lew Powell of San Francisco, who is to meet Kid Harrison in the main event, is in the best kind of shape for the battle and his friends believe that he will have little or no trouble in getting away with the long end of the purse in the main event.

Harrison's friends believe that he will furnish Powell with a surprise party. The Seattle man is a very rough fighter, with a punch that would undo a batschman and the Seattle Kid believes that he will be able to land one of these wallops before the termination of six rounds.

Powell's friends are so confident that he will win that quite a few of them laid wagers at 10 to 1 last night on their favorite.

The men are different types of fighters and the match on this score alone would prove interesting. Powell is very fast, has a fair punch, but is not a knocker out. Harrison on the other hand, has a great punch but is rather slow to take advantage of openings.

Harrison met Frank George at the Reliance Club's last show and put up a rattling good fight. His broke George's nose in the last round of the battle and would have surely won had the fight been over a longer route.

Charlie Ritchie and Harry Dell are the men scheduled to meet in the semi-main event.

Irish-American Club Calls Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Much interest is being manifested in a meeting of the Irish-American Club, to be held tomorrow night. The charter closes at that time, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of those desiring to have their names added to the roll. Nominations will be made for a board of directors. Matters in connection with the approaching field day will be discussed and it is expected that the different committees will be prepared to report on plans.

Melvin Sheppard to Run Saturday

Melvin W. Sheppard, the great middle-distance runner of the Irish-American Association, will start a march on the Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U. and compete in the games of the United Spanish War Veterans. In doing this America's champion will not violate any rules. The games are scheduled for Saturday evening at the Twenty-second Regiment armory in New York, but Sheppard will not start until one minute after midnight, by which time his suspension will have expired. The Irish-American athlete has not been in competition since January 27th, on which day he was suspended for trouble with Guy Haskins in a meet at Philadelphia. Sheppard states that he will never again take part in a race in the Pennsylvania city.

STANLEY KETCHEL TO FIGHT AT BAKERSFIELD MARCH 17

Tim McGrath telephoned to the sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE this morning that he had secured the consent of Stanley Ketchel's manager, Joe O'Connor, to book his star battler at Bakersfield for March 17.

O'Connor told McGrath to match his protegee against any of the local middleweights and that he would guarantee his appearance. No weight has been mentioned, but it is believed that Ketchel will not kick about a pound or two, provided his opponent is not one of the star top-notchers.

McGrath is now casting about for a man with which to oppose Ketchel.

Tim also stated that he had a wire from Jim Flynn, who is now at New Orleans, informing him that Flynn was on his way home.

Flynn is to meet Battling Johnson at Los Angeles about the middle of March. No date has been set, but the match has been practically made.

McGrath is still after a battle for Flynn with Al Kaufman. Tim declares that he is willing to send his man against the big horseshoer at any sort of reasonable terms, and will put up a good wager on the side to make the match more attractive.

JIMMY SMITH HAS SENT IN HIS SIGNED CONTRACT TO WALTER

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Ed Walter, president of the Oakland club, announced this morning that he received the signed contract of Jimmy Smith late last night. Smith is now at Bakersfield, where he is training with Hacks Hogan, and in a letter which accompanied the signed document, Smith declares that he is in the best of shape for the coming season. Hogan and Smith have been practicing faithfully and should be in shape to start off the season with a flourish. The boys have been playing ball every Sunday with local teams and they declare that they never were in better shape for the opening of a season.

Smith's acceptance of the terms offered by Walter completes the Oakland outfield. Helmutner, Conroy, Y. Helgren and Smith are all in the fold. Smith will be back in the old spot at left field again, and the Oakland team should have about as nifty a bunch of outfielders as any team in the Coast League. The only players yet unsigned by Oakland are Dellor, Altman and Hardy, but as Mr. Walter has a complete team and the promise of some more players he is not worried over the failure of these men to send in their signed documents.

FRED LANDERS IS DUE TO ARRIVE TODAY AND HE WILL ISSUE DEF TO FIGHTERS

The North Beach boy is about as good a lightweight as there is in the country today and some of the promoters have been yelling for him to any of the lightweight on the coast.

Fred went East with Kaufman and Delaney, and was immediately taken into the ring.

He had five fights while in the East. His last battle was a fifteen round draw with Willie Fitzgerald at Baltimore. Landers made a great showing against Fitzgerald, and easily outpointed the Harp.

Landers never got anything like a fair flop with the San Francisco promoters. Any time he was wanted to fight he had to go East to get it. Yet in all the battles he fought in San Francisco he never disappointed a crowd. Landers is one boy that deserves recognition. He has always been willing to meet anybody and he has never set up the long howl about a pound or two in weight. Such fighters as Landers should be encouraged to work for the fans and to work the writer's way of looking at it.

Landers is a far more stylish fighter than the Boer Unholzes and McFarlands and Memles and that sort of pigeon, but Freddie seems to have committed the crime of failing to blow his own horn and having been born in San Francisco. It's up to some of the fight clubs to give this lad a chance.

JACK JOHNSON ACCEPTS OFFER TO MEET TOMMY BURNS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Up to noon today no word had been received here from Jack Johnson, the American colored heavyweight pugilist, in reply to an offer made by a syndicate of British sportsmen for a match to take place in England between him and "Tommy" Burns, holder of the heavyweight championship.

The syndicate's representative, Mr. Kelly, in his offer gave Johnson forty-eight hours to come to a decision. This time expired at midnight last night, but in view of the possibility that Johnson could not be reached immediately, the syndicate extended the time for the acceptance of the offer.

This morning Mr. Kelly cabled to Johnson's representative that he "must hear something immediately concerning Johnson."

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—It is the intention of "Jack" Johnson, the colored heavyweight pugilist, to accept the offer of a syndicate of British sportsmen for a match with Tommy Burns in England, according to an interview with Johnson published here today.

Johnson is quoted as saying that while he at first regarded the terms of the proposed match as unfair, he has now made up his mind to accept the offer. His main objection was to the smallness of the purse, but he hopes Burns will agree to a bet of $5000 on the side.

"If Burns can beat me I am willing to quit the game," Johnson is quoted as saying. "Any number of rounds will suit me, from one to a thousand. In fact, now that I have made up my mind to accept, Burns may name the terms."

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 27.—Frank Mantell, the Providence, R. I. whip-wind, is to meet Kid Farmer of Chicago in a twenty round contest here tonight.

The Providence man is looked upon as the probable winner of the battle, and if he makes away with Farmer in short order he will get a chance to meet Stanley Ketchel before Coffroth's Mission street Swat Emporium.

Mantell has made a hit in this city. He is a stylish miler and the patrons of the game here expect that he will be more than a match for Farmer. Farmer himself is no slouch at the game. The manner in which he defeated Mayfield recently convinced the sporting public of this section that he is no slouch at the gentle game of give and take.

The indications are that a good house will be present when the fighters set to their work. A delegation from San Francisco asked for reservation of seats last night.

Gregory Mitchell, the well known sporting man of San Francisco, will develop a champion in his new and Eddie Smith of Oakland will referee the bout.

WATERBURY Conn., Feb. 27.—Frank Gotch, the American wrestling champion, defeated Jim Parr here last night before a crowd of 1200 persons. Gotch won the match in straight falls. He won the first match in nine minutes and the second bout in eleven minutes. The men wrestled catch-as-catch-can with the toe and strangle holds barred.

WELTERWEIGHTS MEET AT MARYSVILLE TONIGHT

Mantell and Farmer Are to Box Twenty Rounds and Tough Battle Is Expected.

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 27.—Frank Mantell, the Providence, R. I. whip-wind, is to meet Kid Farmer of Chicago in a twenty round contest here tonight.

The Providence man is looked upon as the probable winner of the battle, and if he makes away with Farmer in short order he will get a chance to meet Stanley Ketchel before Coffroth's Mission street Swat Emporium.

Daniels Makes a New Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—C. M. Daniels broke the world's swimming record for eighty yards here last night when he covered the distance with three turns in forty-three seconds. He made the new mark in the match with Conrad D. Trulsenbach of the New York Athletic Club at the big tank in the Sportsman's show at Madison Square Garden.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Freddie Walsh of England, who made such a good showing with Packey McFarland, will probably be matched in Milwaukee with Tommy Lowery.

Philadelphia. The Badger Athletic Club is figuring on this bout as a card for their next show—March 6.

1—The Proverb Hunt is open, to all, but contestants must indicate on the proverb each picture represents on the blank provided therefore—and all will compete without charge or consideration of any kind, but only one member of a family will be entitled to receive a prize.

2—Contestants may submit as many answers to each proverb as they desire, but each must be upon a separate blank.

3—Blanks may be filled out in any legible way, by pen, pencil or typewriter, etc.

4—Answers must be sent in only at the close of the contest; all answers must be in THE TRIBUNE office one week after the last or fifteenth picture has been judged.

5—All answers must be plainly addressed to the Proverb Editor, THE TRIBUNE, Oakland, Cal. They may be left at the office, or mailed in care of an employee they should be fully prepaid.

6—Employees of THE TRIBUNE and members of their families are positively barred from competing for rewards in this contest.

7—In making the awards, the judges—whose names will be announced in due course—will take into account the similarity of the answers to the exact words of the proverb as selected by the Proverb Editor; spelling, punctuation and the correct construction and location of the pictures will be graded. Reasonable neatness will be taken into consideration. The awards of the judges will be final in all cases.

8—The first prize will go to the person submitting one or more of the fifty proverbs correctly. The person answering the second largest number correctly, or nearest, will receive second prize, etc. In event of tie prizes will be divided.

9—In the event of a tie for any prize, the value of such will be equally divided or awarded by similar lottery and value awarded each tying contestant.

10—THE TRIBUNE reserves the right to make any changes or additions to their conditions of contest, and to discontinue the interest of contestants. The good faith and honor of THE TRIBUNE is pledged to assure a "square deal" for all.

List of answers is deposited with Security Bank and Trust Co., 11th and Broadway.
